Walk in the Woods: An Archaeological Tour of the Old Job Historic Logging Village

Saturday, June 9, 2018 | 10 AM – 2:30 PM
Mt. Tabor, Vermont

This is a FREE event sponsored by the Vermont Woodlands Association and the Green Mountain National Forest – It's All Yours!

The Vermont Woodlands Association and the Green Mountain National Forest invite you to learn more about the history of our landscape and see "Old Job", the archaeological remains of an historic logging village within the Green Mountain National Forest. Our guides, Dave Lacy (retired Green Mountain National Forest, archaeologist), and Andrew Triplett (current GMNF archaeologist), will show us the remains of houses, a one room school house, a boarding house, mills, charcoal kilns, and more.

Lacy and Triplett will discuss some preservation laws and where they apply; the value we place on archaeological sites; and point out features within Old Job - examples of which could well occur on property you own or manage. It is also an opportunity to have some dialogue about how one might protect and/or manage such sites on lands you actively manage for other purposes. What a great opportunity to Walk in the Woods and learn about things you may have always wondered about, but did not have an expert to ask.

Meet slightly before 10:00 AM at the Green Mountain National Forest (GMNF) work station on Brooklyn Rd, Mt Tabor (east off of Rt 7, then look for a USFS sign/driveway on the right immediately after you cross a small bridge over the Otter Creek. Alternately, if you live in the Weston/Londonderry area you could navigate across Forest Road 10 from Landgrove). Participants will then carpool to the trail head in the Forest, and hike the mile into the site off the Lake Brook Trail. There is relatively little change in elevation along the trail, but it is a trail, so appropriate footwear is recommended. Bring water, bag lunch (we'll eat at the site), bug spray (optional), and trekking poles (optional).

Registration is required. Space is limited. To register, please email info@vermontwoodlands.org, call 802-747-7900 or mail the form below. Back-up Date in case of inclement weather (torrential rain): Wednesday, June 13.
